G 10

I would like to go to New York, New York. The reasons why I would like to go there is because, I would visit the Statue of Liberty, go to there six flags over New York, and go to the museums, and Beaches over in New York. There's a lot of other stuff over there that I would want to see, But those are the main reasons why I would want to go there more than any other place in the world. Plus I would go there because they got a five star hotel, and with two indoor Pools, two outdoor Pools and they got Jacuzzies in the Pool areas, and in the presidential Suite.

I choosed this place, because of the stuff I explained in my first paragraph, and because of there restaurants, there Big Buildings, and I want to see the trade centers where they used to be, and see all the cool places to buy alot of good stuff from. The thing I really like to see if I had the money and If it was a home game I would like to see the New York Nets play in there stadium.

finally, Thats all the things I would like to do in the city of New York.

Score Point: 3

This response reflects a limited degree of proficiency in expository writing skills. The writer selects New York City as a place to visit and gives a list of reasons to go there (visit the Statue of Liberty, museums, five star hotel, and restaurants). However, attempts at development are inadequate. In addition, a pattern of errors in writing conventions is evident. Stronger organization and further development are required for a higher score.
